LETTER
FROM THE MAYOR

Londoners were looking for three things when they elected their new City Council: stability, focus and a plan to build a more prosperous, more innovative, more diverse and exciting community.

On our third day in office, Council formally began work on this Strategic Plan. We approved the plan on March 10, after exactly 100 days in office.

It is London’s path forward to a better, more focused and more sustainable future.

We spent many hours working together to define our strategic areas of focus as a Council, to identify where we are going and what we want to accomplish during the next four years, and beyond.

Our Strategic Plan is unique among Canadian municipalities. It is coupled with our new four-year budget cycle, allowing us to bring forward the strategic initiatives in alignment with the resources needed to implement them in an affordable, responsible way.

OUR COUNCIL IS PROUD TO PRESENT OUR STRATEGIC PLAN. LET’S BEGIN THIS EXCITING JOURNEY TOGETHER.

Mayor Matt Brown
INTRODUCTION

It also identifies the specific strategies that Council and Administration will deliver on together over the next four years.

Many Londoners contributed to the creation of this Strategic Plan. Londoners participated in ward meetings, completed online surveys, provided feedback via email and social media, and engaged in conversations about London’s future.

The Strategic Plan references many other important documents, such as the London Plan, the Transportation Master Plan, London’s Downtown Plan, the London Strengthening Neighbourhoods Strategy, and many more. These strategic documents were also developed with significant input and time investment from Londoners, reflecting their commitment to the future of their city.

The Strategic Plan sets our direction for the future, and will guide the City’s first ever multi-year budget for 2016-2019. It is through the multi-year budget process that Council’s Strategic Plan will be put into action, adding further detail to each strategy about accountability, timing and resourcing.

On an annual basis, City Council will report to Londoners on the implementation of the Strategic Plan, and demonstrate the progress being made each year and how this work is making a difference in the London community.
